Banger challenge set to hit £250,000 target

• The teams ready to go at Blenheim Palace on Friday

A CHARITY challenge for car enthusiasts over the Bank Holiday weekend is set to smash its £250,000 fundraising target.

The Twin Town Challenge 2016 saw 100 teams drive their budget bangers - all bought for £500 or less - from West Oxfordshire to France and back in support of Charlbury-based disability charity, SpecialEffect.

So far, it has raised £231,000 and organisers are hoping an auction of 30 cars that took part could push them over their target.

By Alex Ballinger

This year's challenge was won by the team of four from solicitors Brethertons, who have offices in Banbury and Bicester.

Team member Alistair Spencer, a solicitor and notary, said: "It was a wonderful experience, which was great for getting to know our teammates, building friendships with other teams and the organisers, who did an amazing job.

"Winning was the icing on the cake, but the experience and friendships formed and the realisation of the amazing work done by SpecialEffect, was far more important than actually winning."

The teams had to take part in a number of challenges to gain points while driving more than 400 miles to Le Touquet, near Calais.

The team, made up of Rose Gladden, Steven Neasham, Danielle Green and Mr Spencer took top spot with a score of 8,569 points. Second place went to the Can't be Named for Legal Reasons team, with 8,155.

Setting off from Blenheim Palace in Woodstock at 8.30am last Friday, the teams had to follow treasure hunts, drive around a track blindfolded and carry cardboard boxes, to name just a few of the challenges they faced.

The founder and CEO of SpecialEffect, Dr Mick Donegan, said: "The success of the amazing Twin Town Challenge 2016 has left the SpecialEffect team both stunned and humbled, not only by the remarkable funds raised but also from the feel-good factor generated during a weekend that none of us will ever forget.

Dr Donegan said: "Demand is rising all the time as more and more

Cancer surviving sisters set to get Pretty Muddy

By Samantha McGregor

TWO sisters who were both diagnosed with the same cancer plan to show just how tough they are.

Jess and Allie Chu have signed up for Oxford's first Pretty Muddy event to raise cash for Cancer Research UK.

But each step of the way the pair will also be thinking of Allie's late partner Igi, 32, who died in 2012 after a short battle against T-cell lymphoma of the kidney.

Four years ago, their worlds fell apart – as Jess had surgery to remove her thyroid, and her brother-in-law was in an induced coma in another ward.

Initially, doctors thought 32-year-old Igi might have contracted a tropical disease during a visit to Brazil, but tests showed he had cancer and he died days later.

At the same time, Jess was told by doctors the thyroid they had removed had two tumours, but thankfully all the cancer was removed.

Photographer Jess, who grew up in Oxford, said her diagnosis was a "shock".

She said: "We were all swept up with what was going on with Igi.

"A week later we were stood by his bed as the machines were turned off.

"I heard his little boy say 'bye daddy', which will live with me forever.

"I felt fraudulent. I felt incredibly guilty that I had got off so lightly while Igi was being hit so hard.

"There was I being told they had found cancer, but they had got it and I would not need further treatment while just a week later Igi had passed away."

Mum-of-two Jess kept it a secret but eventually told Allie, who lives in Tackley, near Kidlington.

But fate was to deal the sisters another blow when, three years later, Allie, mum to Ciaran, 12, Matteo, five, and Bella, four, was diagnosed with the exact same cancer that Jess had.

Allie, 35, said: "When they told me, it definitely panicked me.

"I had three children who had already lost their dad.

"Even though my sister had this and was fine, you still worry."

She had surgery in December, and has since been given the all-clear from cancer.

Now the pair, regulars at the Race for Life, are gearing up for the Pretty Muddy event on September 17, in South Park, and are urging other women to take part.

Bus subsidies

OXON: Around half of the county's 118 subsidised bus routes are to be cut from next month.

In February, Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) gave the green light to plans to stop funding all of its subsidised routes in order to save £3.7million from its budget.

So far 15 of Oxfordshire's 17 bus operators have confirmed their plans for subsidised routes.

Of the 105 routes run by these operators, 49 will be stopped, and 56 will continue in some form.

OCC has yet to hear from the remaining two operators, who run 13 routes.

Parents charged

OXFORD: The parents of an Oxford man dubbed 'Jihadi Jack' have been charged with sending money to Syria.

John Letts, 55, of Chilswell Road in Oxford, was charged with three counts of entering into or becoming concerned in an arrangement to make available money, knowing or having reasonable cause to suspect that it may be used for terrorist purposes.

Sally Lane, 53, also of Chilswell Road, was charged with three counts of the same offence, and two counts of attempting to provide money, knowing or having reasonable cause to suspect that it may be used for terrorist purposes.

Jack Letts, a Muslim convert and former pupil of Cherwell School, told his parents he was travelling to Kuwait to study Arabic in 2014, before secretly travelling to Syria. He is now suspected to be living in Iraq.

His parents have been released on bail and will appear at Westminster Magistrates' Court on June 9.

Man arrested after cash stolen in ice cream van robbery

A 43-YEAR-OLD man from Oxford has been arrested after cash was stolen from an ice cream truck in Kelburne Road, in Rose Hill, Oxford.

A man ordered an ice cream from the victim's truck and when he turned around to add toppings, the offender jumped through the window of the van and threatened the victim with a knife.

The victim then got out of the van and the offender grabbed a till full of cash and ran away.

After leaving the scene the offender travelled through Mayfair Road, Hillsborough Road, Rose Hill and Ashurst Way, while the victim chased him on foot shouting for help from the public.

The offender then entered a property where he changed his clothes before coming outside and running away into St Martins Road.

The victim followed him again but lost sight of the offender.

Investigating officer PC Christopher Cassidy, from Oxford Local CID, said: "I would like to speak to anyone who witnessed this offence taking place or who saw a man matching the offender's description running around the Rose Hill area at around the time of the incident."

The suspect was arrested on suspicion of robbery on Wednesday morning.

He was still being questioned by police as the Oxfordshire Guardian went to press.

Anyone with information about the incident is asked to call Thames Valley Police on 101, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

22-year-old man went missing two-and-a-half years ago

Remains found in hunt

By Alex Ballinger

THE remains of an Oxfordshire backpacker have been found two-and-a-half years after he went missing in Canada.

Tom Billings, of Boars Hill, was last seen alive in Vancouver in November 2013 while spending eight weeks travelling through North America but was reported missing a week later.

The Vancouver Police Department (VPD) confirmed last Friday that the 22-year-old's remains had been found after a DNA identification had been carried out.

A statement from VPD said: "The family wants to thank the general public for the support and assistance in the search to find their son Tom over the last two-and-a-half years.

"The family specifically wishes to express their deepest appreciation to the members of the North Shore Search and Rescue team and the helicopter pilots of Talon Aviation, the staff and members of the British consulate in Vancouver for all their continued support, and finally to the VPD in general and the Missing Persons Unit in particular for their continued and persistent work to find their son Tom."

A hiker on Cypress Mountain in West Vancouver spotted what he believed to be human remains on April 11.

The hiker reported the sighting to police and the search and rescue team returned to the area to recover Mr Billings' body.

VPD said the Canadian Coroners Service was continuing to investigate the death, but foul play was not suspected.

Mr Billings had been travelling after graduating from Durham University and was planning to study for a doctorate on his return.

A final push to try to find the body of the former Cokethorpe School pupil in October 2014 proved fruitless and his family feared he would never be found.

The VPD statement added: "The 22-year-old seasoned traveller and avid hiker had been spending eight weeks travelling in North America.

"He was reported missing a week after he was last seen, when he failed to complete his travel plans.

"Vancouver Police Missing Persons investigators have been in regular contact with the Billings family from the day Tom was reported missing.

"Shortly after 9pm last night (Thursday), police made the call to Tom's parents. In a two-hour conversation, the Billings were provided with the sad news."

Mr Billings was last seen at about 9am on November 25, 2013, and is believed to have gone for a hike on the mountain.

At the time of his disappearance, it was believed he might have got lost or been injured, but a large-scale search failed to find any trace of him.

Banger challenge success severely disabled people hear about our work.

"The funds raised will enable the charity to take on the additional specialist staff required to meet demand."

It designs and builds adapted video game controllers free of charge to allow them to play their favourite games.

Dr Donegan added: "The funds raised by events like Twin Town 2016, which is by far the biggest fundraising event for SpecialEffect ever, are quite literally the charity's lifeblood."

This year's challenge was the second to be held following the inaugural event in 2014.

Organiser Brendon Cross, also SpecialEffect's vice-president, said of this year's event: "In one word, amazing.

"Amazing fun, amazing camaraderie, amazing cars, amazing teams, amazing events and most importantly an amazing amount of money raised.

"Feedback we have received after the event has been overwhelming and people obviously had a great time."

Asked if the challenge would return, Mr Cross said: "Ask me next week, but there is already huge pressure from most of the teams to do the event again in 2018.

"The challenge is probably the most fun anyone can have making money for charity."

The charity auction of more than 30 of the participating cars will be held this evening at West Oxfordshire Motor Auctions in Minster Lovell at 5.30pm.

Sentence due

ABINGDON: Trevor Joyce is due to be sentenced in London on Monday for killing 61-year-old Justin Skrebowski in the town's Poundland discount store last December.

Joyce, of Franklyn Close, Abingdon, pleaded guilty to manslaughter with diminished responsibility at Oxford Crown Court on Thursday, May 19.

He also pleaded guilty to two counts of making threats to kill, one count of assault causing actual bodily harm and one count of threatening others with offensive weapons.

Death case

CHOLSEY: A woman who admitted killing a cyclist while drink-driving is expected to be sentenced at Oxford Crown Court today.

Maria Sutton, of Newlands Way, Cholsey, knocked over 55-year-old research scientist Graham Ruecroft in Wallingford Road, Cholsey, as he cycled home from work on June 4 last year.

Sutton, 27, was set to be sentenced on Thursday, May 19, but the hearing was delayed.

Sutton admitted driving her Kia Cee'd over the alcohol limit without due care and attention last month, and to perverting the course of justice on December 23 last year.

Affordable homes plan for Wolvercote mill site

By Samantha McGregor

A COALITION of community groups has put forward "innovative plans" for affordable news homes in Oxford.

Homes for Oxford, an alliance of community-led housing groups Oxfordshire Community Land Trust, Oxford Cohousing, Kindling Housing Co-op and Happy House, wants to develop land at Wolvercote Paper Mill, owned by Oxford University.

All the homes would be sustainable, including some zero carbon, and at least 50 per cent of them would be affordable, either through rent or shared-ownership.

The alliance is up against national developers bidding for the site.

Local resident Stephen Lunn said: "The proposed development would mean that our despair that our children would never be able to afford to live here would turn to hope, and would provide unique opportunities for engagement with the village.

"We're confident that a successful Homes for Oxford bid would lead to far better outcomes for the village than any other possibility."

The coalition said Oxford house prices were 16 times the average income of the city's population, and there were 40,000 people who could not afford to live in the city so commuted every day.

Its plan has been prepared with Bioregional, which developed sustainable-living sites BedZED (London) and One Brighton, and had "secured the moral and financial support" of Wolvercote residents.

Deborah Glass Woodin, of Homes for Oxford, said: "There is huge support, both from the local community and across Oxford, for an alternative to the standard housing development where houses are priced beyond the reach of people that live and work in the city."

Outline planning permission was granted in December 2015 for a development including up to 190 homes, a community centre, a GP surgery, office buildings and a lagoon.

Homes for Oxford hope to be shortlisted in the next round of the bidding process on June 7.

Tributes paid to crash victims

TRIBUTES have been paid to two young people killed in a head-on car crash near Shrivenham.

A blue Citroen Saxo travelling towards Oxford and a black Mercedes travelling in the opposite direct collided a week last Sunday at 11.15pm, killing all four occupants in the Citroen.

All four of the young people - two men and two women - are understood to have lived in Northamptonshire. Three of the victims have been named.

• Brogan Warren

• Sam Kay

In tribute to Sam Kay, his parents Stuart and Debra and sister Nicola said in a statement he lived life to "the fullest".

It said: "This tragedy has left a huge hole in our lives. Sam was taken from this world way too early and will be missed dearly, but he will forever be in our hearts."

The family of Brogan Warren, 21, described her as a "beautiful" girl who "touched everyone around you with your magical soul and your glittery ways".

They said she was due to be the birthing partner for her older sister Taylia Palmer in July and, in September, was planning to travel to Kenya to volunteer in an orphanage.

The family of Sam Jones did not release a statement and asked for privacy.

The fourth victim has not yet been named.

School marks anniversary of pupil's death

A DIDCOT school has remembered a former pupil on the first anniversary of her death.

Six-year-old Derrin Jordan, known as Dezzy, was murdered alongside her mother Janet Jordan, 48, and her mum's partner Philip Howard, 44, in a house in Vicarage Road, last May.

Her half-brother Jed Allen, 21, stabbed the three to death and later killed himself.

An inquest last November returned a verdict of unlawful killing.

Last week, All Saints School celebrated the little girl's life with a school picnic and the opening of a new playground dedicated to her memory.

New equipment includes a wooden play structure with connected logs and ropes.

In a statement, the school said: "School families came together to celebrate her life with a school picnic and opening of a new playground area dedicated to her memory."

The town's Changing Lives Didcot charity shop gave £1,000 towards the play area and the school said it was grateful for the donation.

The inquest heard Allen scrawled the words "I am sorry" in blood on his bedroom wall after the killings.

Appeal for man

OXFORD: An appeal has been launched to find a man who may have information about an argument that broke out between two cyclists where a 19-year-old man was punched in the face.

The incident took place on Friday, May 13 in Observatory Street at around 10.45pm.

Police released CCTV images of a man they would like to speak to in connection with the incident on Tuesday.

Call 101 with information.

Dance club out

OXFORD: The Elite Squad Royalz dance club failed to make it to the finals of Britain's Got Talent last Thursday evening.

The Blackbird Leys-based group finished sixth in their semi-finals after failing to secure enough votes from the public to progress to the grand final of ITV's talent show.

Their royal themed performances had impressed Simon Cowell and the judges before, but the group of 13 youngsters did not quite make the final stage.

Plaque opening for Bicester's eco town

By Samantha McGregor

AN ENERGY centre that will power the first houses at Bicester's 6,000-home eco town has been fired up.

Andrea Leadsom, the Minister of State for Energy and Climate Change, and Banbury MP Victoria Prentis helped unveil a plaque to mark the opening of the North West Bicester energy centre.

Construction work started on the first 393 homes in April 2014 and were due to be occupied in spring 2015.

A2Dominion says the first residents will move in shortly.

• The unveiling of the plaque

All the homes will be heated by the combined heat and power plant and more will be built as the rest of the eco-settlement site is developed.

The plant, which will be operated by SSE once it has been commissioned, supplies heat and hot water to all homes through a district heating system.

It harnesses waste heat from electrical generation exported to the grid and also helps minimise energy consumption and prevents the need for a separate boiler in each home.

Ms Leadsom said: "The CHP plant is an excellent example of a low carbon, sustainable source of energy.

"A2Dominion and SSE have worked hard to design an energy solution for residents that fits with the overall sustainability of the development."

Darrell Mercer, chief executive at A2Dominion, said: "Elmsbrook demonstrates that we can achieve truly sustainable standards in design and the lifestyle for residents, without compromising on comfort or quality.

"A district heating solution is a pioneering way to heat modern homes efficiently, and we hope that this and the other environmental features on this scheme will inform future development projects."

The CHP plant is one of several sustainable features incorporated into the scheme to improve energy saving and efficiency.

All homes will have solar panels and rain water harvesting and water recycling, triple glazing and water recycling.

The opening of the primary school at the site has been postponed for a year because not enough children had been registered as pupils.

Appeal hearing over proposal for retail park

AN APPEAL over plans to build a retail park on a new estate in Bicester will be held this month.

CPG Developments wants to build six shops, a restaurant, gym and a car park on land at the Kingsmere estate.

It said businesses signed up for the retail park included Next, Marks and Spencer, TK Maxx and restaurant Frankie and Benny's.

But the proposal was refused planning permission by Cherwell District Council last October on the grounds of increased traffic, car parking and the impact on town-centre retailers.

Among those who objected to the scheme were Bicester Village, Sainsbury's, Bicester Town Council and business support organisation Bicester Vision.

Residents and Kingsmere Community Association supported the scheme.

The retail park would be sited near the Premier Inn and pub, off Oxford Road, as part of the Kingsmere estate which has planning permission for more than 2,200 homes.

The appeal hearing will take place at Banbury Cricket Club, Whitepost Road, Bodicote, on June 14, from 10am.

The public can attend.

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Oxfordshire area from their local depots and manager James Miller agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Ban on 'legal highs' is welcomed by police

By Alex Ballinger

A NEW law criminalising the sale of psychoactive substances known as 'legal highs' has been welcomed by Oxfordshire's police force.

The Psychoactive Substances Act 2016 came into effect last Thursday, making it an offence to produce, supply, offer to supply, possess with intent to supply, import or export legal highs.

Anyone breaching the law can be imprisoned for up to seven years.

Thames Valley Police acting Detective Chief Superintendent Ray Howard, who is head of intelligence and specialist operations, called the new rules a 'step forward'.

He said: "I am pleased that Thames Valley Police will now be able to take action to prevent the sale and distribution of these substances, which can be highly addictive and have many associated risks, including negative consequences to a person's mental health.

"It is important that businesses and the public are aware of the new rules."

He said the new law would have a positive effect on the Thames Valley.

The recently re-elected Police and Crime Commissioner for Thames Valley, Anthony Stansfeld, said: "I welcome the ban on psychoactive substances and I am delighted that it has now come into force."

Police said the act was not aimed at criminalising people possessing the substances, but people who produced, imported and supplied them would be targeted.

Anyone found to be ordering the substances from websites could face prosecution and also if they shared the drugs with their friends.

The ban includes Nitrous Oxide, also known as laughing gas, but alkyl nitrates or 'poppers' are not prohibited under the legislation.

The force said its approach to tackling psychoactive substances would be "balanced, practical, proportionate and based on individual circumstances".

Police will be able to stop and search suspects, vehicles and vessels, enter and search premises with a warrant, and seize and destroy psychoactive substances.

Government minister for preventing abuse, exploitation and crime, Karen Bradley, said: "They are not safe and we will not allow them to be sold in this country."

Five precious 17th-century articles acquired by Bodleian

OXFORD'S Bodleian Libraries has obtained five precious 17th-century pieces of work.

All five articles were bought from the collection of the American bibliophile Robert Pirie, who died in 2015, and include a rare manuscript from poet John Donne and a letter from philosopher John Locke.

• The letter by William Laud to fellow of Merton College John Greaves

Keeper of special collections at the Bodleian, Chris Fletcher, said: "Every one of these items has an Oxford connection and is a perfect complement to the Bodleian's existing collections.

"We are grateful to the institutions and donors who have helped us bring these books and manuscripts back to the UK for the benefit of the public and the scholarly community."

Donne's poem 'Meditation upon a Good Friday, ryding from London Towards Exceter, westward' was written in 1613 and the early manuscript will be added to the library's collection of his poetry.

The articles also include a letter from the Oxford University chancellor and Archbishop of Canterbury William Laud written from the Tower of London in 1642 where he was held after being impeached by Parliament in 1640.

He was executed in 1645 for treason.

The other works are a book by John Aubrey about the supernatural, annotated by Oxford scientist Robert Hooke, and a book of proverbs including common phrases like "the more the merrier" and "Rome was not built in a day".

Church burgled

OXFORD: A church in north Oxford was burgled last Wednesday when offenders stole cash from a safe.

It is believed they gained entry to St Margaret's Church in St Margaret's Road overnight and, once inside, they forced open a number of doors and smashed a small stained glass window.

Anyone with information is asked to call Thames Valley Police on 101.

Pool opens doors

BANBURY: The town's outdoor pool opened its doors for the first time this year over the Bank Holiday weekend.

Woodgreen Leisure Centre includes a heated Olympic-sized pool, flume, interactive aqua splash area for toddlers and a snack bar.

Work to start

BANBURY: Building work is set to start on five one-bedroom flats and staff accommodation for a supported housing scheme for adults with brain injuries. The scheme will be built on a plot of land on the north side of Hanwell Fields.

The rest of the land has been earmarked for 544 homes.

Doctor's trip of discovery

By Samantha McGregor

AN OXFORD doctor who left the British shores six years ago to cycle around the world has spoken about how the challenge changed his life.

Dr Stephen Fabes, 35, cycled through 75 countries across Europe, Africa, South America, Central and North America, Australia and Asia to find out more about healthcare around the world.

During his adventure, he pedalled a total of 53,568 miles – the equivalent of circumnavigating the globe twice.

He slept in people's homes, churches, schools, mosques and army barracks, as well as his trusty tent.

Throughout his trip, Stephen, of Summertown, visited remote medical clinics which treat a range of people including nomads, refugees, drug addicts, victims of violence, ex-prisoners, sex workers, slum dwellers, those suffering from mental illness and infectious and deforming diseases.

And it was these people who had the biggest impact on his life and demonstrated to him how poor health marginalised people.

Stephen, who qualified from Liverpool University in 2005 and worked at London's Guys and St Thomas' Hospital, said: "As I started visiting projects through contacts of mine, I realised that almost all the people I met were on the edge of society as a result of infectious diseases.

"Physically and socially they were not part of the mainstream society. I wanted to know find out how that affected their health.

"Be it mental health in India or leprosy in Nepal, they were marginalised for different reasons.

"I began to get interested in finding out how marginalisation affected health and disease."

One of those is a women called Ranjeeta Tamang, who lived in Nepal and was housebound because she had leprosy – her only company being a wind-up radio.

But her life was changed one day after hearing a radio programme that described how her disease could easily be cured.

Her brother took her to Anandaban, a hospital supported by the UK-based charity Leprosy Mission England and Wales, and she met Dr Fabes and was treated.

He said: "I am now more interested in the world, in international health care and international development, and I want to tell the story of the people I met."

Floral success

THAME: A flower festival at St Mary's Church has been hailed a success after 64 entries filled the church last month.

Among the floral displays were creations by 1st Thame Scouts, U3A, Thame Bowls Club and Elaine Butler, married to Cllr Don Butler, who had incorporated the Queen's birthday beacon into her design that featured roses, oriental lilies and anthuriums.

Town's big lunch

BICESTER: Thousands of people are expected to join Bicester's Big Lunch on Sunday, June 12, to celebrate the Queen's 90th birthday.

Chairs and tables will line Sheep Street, food stalls will be dotted around the town and local musicians will perform throughout the day.

Organisers are urging volunteers to sign up to work for a shift during the day from 7.30am to 7.30pm, which could include setting up, stewarding, tidying up or wearing a costume to entertain children.

For more information, go to bicestersbiglunch.org.uk.

City is feeling fit

The figures were published by Oxford City Council last Thursday, based on the Government's 2011 census.

It asked people to rate their health as 'very good', 'good', 'fair', 'bad' or 'very bad'. All Oxford's 24 wards were above England's average with 81.2 per cent of people picking 'very good' or 'good'.

The top ward was Holywell (96.2 per cent), while bottom was Blackbird Leys (81.2 per cent).

Market trader receives award

A POPULAR Banbury market trader has been honoured for his 25 years' support of the town's market.

Richard White was presented with the 'Longest Standing Trader' award by Chris Heath, Chairman of Cherwell District Council.

Richard started working from a young age and now works alongside his son, selling fruit and vegetables.

He employs local people to support the community and sets up his stall every Thursday and Saturday.

The award was presented at the Banbury edition of Love Your Local Market 2016, a national campaign offering free pitches and insurance to new traders who want to try their hand at being their own boss.

Cllr Heath said: "Over the years, Richard has built up a warm rapport with the townspeople and it was a real pleasure to be able to recognise his decades of hard work with this award.

"Banbury market is not just a retail outlet, but a community asset which brings us all together at the heart of the town.

"Nobody embodies these values better than Richard."

This was the fourth time that Banbury market, run by Cherwell District Council in partnership with Sketts, has participated in Love Your Local Market, a national campaign promotes the sustainability of traditional markets.

Help our appeal

By Alex Ballinger

THE Oxfordshire Guardian and our 2016 Charity of the Year Blue Skye Thinking are pleased and excited to launch our new campaign: The Skye's the Limit appeal.

Since it was first set up in 2014, the charity has raised a phenomenal amount of money and has funded a four-year research project into childhood brain tumours.

But despite achieving such a huge amount in a short space of time, the battle is not yet won and brain tumours are still the biggest cancer killer of children.

Blue Skye Thinking now wants to continue the fight and reach the next milestone to help combat childhood brain tumours.

Blue Skye Thinking was set up in 2014 as a legacy for five-year-old Abingdon boy Skye Hall, who died later that year from the side effects of his aggressive cancer treatment.

Since the tragic death of their son, parents Sally and Andrew Hall have made it their mission to raise awareness about childhood cancers and to find more funding for research.

Together, the Oxfordshire Guardian and Blue Skye Thinking are now asking for your help, as our readers and the charity's supporters, to help them fund a new researcher.

Blue Skye Thinking has already raised £120,000 to fund the work of 24-year-old researcher Gemma Llargues Sistac for four years.

She is working at the Northern Institute for Cancer Research at Newcastle University to identify drug combinations that could be used for children suffering from the kind of brain tumour Skye had.

If you can help in any way, whether through volunteering, donating or taking part in a charity challenge in support of our Charity of the Year, together we can do our bit to make childhood brain cancers history.

To donate, go to justgiving.com/oxfordshire-guardian.

Visit blueskyethinking.org to learn more about the charity and its work.

Skye's mum in appeal for readers to help raise remaining cash

IN launching the appeal, Skye's mum Sally Hall said: "We are delighted to announce that we have raised £175k towards our £200k target to ensure another full-time paediatric brain tumour researcher is in place, who will this time specialise in relapsed tumours.

"Sadly, relapses happen all too frequently but devastatingly there is little or no treatment that is effective.

"As many know, we are striving to bring about a big change in the way the most lethal of all childhood cancers is managed.

"Currently, just over one per cent of funding goes into research for brain tumours as a whole.

"It is a cancer, which affects children, teenagers and young adults alike and is responsible for the most life years lost, yet seems to have fallen off the radar.

"With the incidence of brain tumours on the rise, my husband Andrew and I stand united, together with our trustees, to enlighten and encourage readers on such a taboo subject.

"We are desperate to raise the last £25k for this project by April of next year. We will be holding some exciting fundraising events."

She urged readers to volunteer their time at events such as Truck Music Festival, where 20 people were needed to serve food, or to come up with fundraising ideas.

"History has proven that where funding leads, breakthroughs follow."

'Further research is essential'

A RELAPSED brain tumour carries the most devastating prognosis – fewer than 10 per cent of children who relapse following current therapies will survive, according to Professor Steve Clifford, of the Northern Institute for Cancer Research.

Prof Clifford said: "Our pioneering work has shown that the biology of medulloblastoma, the most common of childhood brain tumours, changes at relapse and can potentially be used to predict subsequent disease course, and to develop new targeted therapies against."

He added: "It is now essential that we biopsy tumours more commonly at relapse, and extend our initial work to understand the biological basis of brain tumour relapse, and how it can be most effectively be explored to improve outcomes."

City homes study is labelled 'waffle'

By Katriona Ormiston

GREEN Belt land on the edge of Oxford could have more than 12,000 new homes built on it to try to combat the city's housing crisis, a new report has revealed.

The 30-page document says land north of Oxford could accommodate up to 3,600 houses, and land south of Oxford could have up to 7,300 homes.

The major development areas earmarked are near Wolvercote and Cutteslowe, Kidlington, Yarnton, Wheatley, Abingdon, and Grenoble Road by Greater Leys.

It also explains developer Berkeley Homes says there could be 1,200 new homes built at Wick Farm, near Barton.

The report was produced by planning advisors Turley for Oxford City Council to assess the options for housing growth.

It is dated January 2016 but was published by the council last Wednesday.

It states: "In short, it is argued that 'rather than nibbling into the fields that surround the city and all its satellite villages, we should take a good confident bite out of the Green Belt to create sustainable urban extensions that can support a tram service and a range of facilities'."

The Oxfordshire branch of the Campaign to Protect Rural England has been fighting plans to review the county's Green Belt.

Director of CPRE Oxfordshire, Helen Marshall, said: "This report is 30 pages of waffle to end up justifying that the only place on earth that is suitable for Oxford's houses is on Green Belt land the city council just happens to own.

"Over three quarters of Oxfordshire residents have said they want to see the Green Belt kept safe from development, not least because it protects the historic character and setting of the city itself."

Oxford City Council argues the review is necessary because the city cannot find enough suitable land within its boundaries to build on.

'Terrifying' knifeman in park sparks a manhunt

A MANHUNT is underway to find a man who waved a six- to eight-inch knife in front of a group of children in a Witney park last Tuesday.

The group of two boys and three girls, aged between nine and 11, were playing in the Cogges Park in Church Lane at about 6.45pm.

They noticed a man nearby and, as they left the park, he removed a knife from his clothes and gestured for them to come towards him.

He followed them as they ran from the scene but the children managed to lose him.

Investigating officer PC Gary Smales said: "This was a terrifying experience for these boys and girls, and I understand the community will be worried about this incident.

"I can reassure residents that we are conducting a thorough investigation, including carrying out patrols in the area and obtaining CCTV, where possible."

The offender is described as white, 5ft 10in to 5ft 11in tall, in his late 20s to early 30s, and bald. He was wearing a black baseball cap, black leather jacket, black trousers and black shoes.

PC Smales added: "We also need the help of the public, so if you recognise the description of the offender, saw anything unusual in the area on Tuesday or have any other information please come forward."

Cat 'starts blaze'

WALLINGFORD: A cat is believed to have sparked a kitchen fire in Wallingford after knocking a plastic bag on to a hob and pushing the touch control button with its paw.

A dogsitter raised the alarm when they arrived at the home in High Street to pick up the pet for a walk last Wednesday, May 25.

Firefighters battled the blaze shortly after 6pm.

The fire officers investigated the cause of the blaze and believe the cat started it.

Three weeks left in 'once in a generation' EU campaign

AS we enter the final stretch of one of the biggest political debates in our lifetime, the European Union (EU) referendum may have left British voters disillusioned.

By Alex Ballinger

Major figures on both sides have fired thousands of rounds of political ammunition at the public with the hopes of finding a silver bullet, but no one has managed to split the opposition in half.

Cracks in the Conservative Party have emerged and months of infighting may have driven apart key Government figures irreconcilably: notably Prime Minister David Cameron and potential future party leader Boris Johnson.

Mr Johnson announced earlier this year he would be campaigning for Brexit and against Mr Cameron, despite previously publicly supporting the EU.

While some have said Mr Johnson's intentions may be entirely ambitious, he has provided the celebrity face for the Vote Leave campaign.

Mr Cameron's future as party leader has been called into question over the course of his Remain campaign, and opposition within his party has made call for his resignation if the country votes to leave later this month.

But the Witney MP has said he believes the Tories can reunite after election day.

Meanwhile, Jeremy Corbyn's Labour Party are broadly in support of staying in the EU.

In essence, the two viewpoints can be boiled down to British sovereignty versus strength through solidarity with Europe.

The deadline to register to vote in the referendum is next Tuesday, June 7, with polling taking place on June 23.

Alan Johnson MP - chairman of Labour In for Britain group and former Home Secretary

IN less than a month's time, people in Oxfordshire will make the biggest decision of my lifetime: deciding whether or not we should stay a part of the European Union.

The last time our country took such a decision was in 1975 but back then we'd only been part of what was then called the European Economic community for 17 months; there were only nine member states and the world was much less interdependent.

Now the EU consists of 28 countries forming the biggest commercial market in the world with 520 million consumers.

Businesses invest here because of the ease with which they can trade with Europe and our access to a single market that's bigger than China and the US.

Over three million British jobs are linked to exports from the UK to other EU countries, including 450,000 in the South East of England alone.

But it's not just about our economy today, it's about the protection of workers' rights through the EU's social dimension.

Our membership of the EU also gives universities, including the University of Oxford and Oxford Brookes, access to billions of pounds of investment in sciences and technologies that will shape the future of our economy.

When I visited Oxford last week, I heard first-hand about the jobs that would be put at risk by this huge leap in the dark.

As in 1975, this referendum is about our country's future.

A positive future where our economy is stronger, our streets are safer, and our country is better off as part of the European Union.

That is the future I'll be voting for – and I hope you'll do the same.

Stephen Nash – Chair of Ukip Witney and a Grassroots Out campaigner

RECENTLY, Jean-Claude Juncker, president of the EU, said that government leaders "spend too much time listening to their voters".

Such contempt for democracy condemns the EU.

It was French bureaucrat Jean Monnet who conceived a federal Europe, brought about secretly by gradual steps - "ever-closer union" - starting with the European Coal and Steel Community in 1951, under a "high authority".

The ECSC expanded to "Les Six", and by stages to the 28 nations currently in the EU.

The 'high authority' became the EU Commission, unelected and remote. Each stage involved another treaty and more loss of sovereignty, something Edward Heath knew full well when he lied to the British people in 1972.

So be warned: to vote Remain will not mean keeping the status quo.

The "European Project" will continue. A raft of new legislation is waiting in the wings - the announcement of an EU Army, the "harmonisation" of welfare and pensions, etc.

Europe is in chaos, yet the EU ideology will continue.

Those who think Britain is not able to stand on her own feet are the real "Little Englanders".

The EU needs us more than we need it - if three million of our jobs depend on EU countries, five million of their jobs depend on us.

And we have a ready-made trading block called the Commonwealth of over two billion people who speak English and understand and value English law.

We should leave the dictatorial EU, reunite with the prospering Commonwealth and lead the world into a golden age.

Grant approved

CHIPPING NORTON: A £200,000 grant has been approved to help fund purpose-built accommodation in West Oxfordshire for younger adults living with dementia.

A report said there was a "significant under provision of specialist accommodation" for adults with dementia.

Plans for the development of 12 self-contained apartments at Forest Road, Charlbury, were approved last November.

Free parking day

SOUTH OXON: Car parks across the Vale of the White Horse will be free on June 11 to celebrate the Queen's 90th birthday.

The free parking will be available in all its off-street car parks in Abingdon, Faringdon and Wantage.

Firm wins award

CHERWELL: Bicester-based High Spec Composites has won the Cherwell Business Awards Apprenticeship of the Year 2016.

Founded in 2010 by managing director Matt Jaycock and his wife Sarah, the firm manufactures carbon fibre components.

Since 2011, the firm has employed four apprentices, helping them to gain work experience and a qualification.

Commission rates care home as 'outstanding'

By Alex Ballinger

A SPECIALIST care home near Oxford has been hailed by independent inspectors.

Vale House in Sandford-on-Thames was rated 'outstanding' by the Care Quality Commission (CQC) in a report published last Wednesday- it is the only care home in the county to receive the highest rating.

The inspectors praised the home, which specialises in dementia support, on its caring staff and "exemplary" response to people's needs.

Vale House manager Tricia O'Leary said: "Everyone at Vale House is delighted with the "outstanding" rating awarded to us by CQC, making us the first care home in Oxfordshire to achieve this standard.

"Vale House has strived to provide distinctive and exceptional care.

"Ensuring that people with dementia are cared for as individuals whose lives have meaning and value is at the heart of our philosophy of care."

The CQC paid a surprise visit to the home in March. It was at full capacity with 40 residents.

Vale House was first set up as a 'not for profit' group in Botley in 1990, but relocated to Sandford in 2012 after a £2.5million fundraising drive.

The CQC report said: "Every relative we spoke to, without exception, was extremely complimentary about the caring nature of the management and staff.

"People benefited in end-of-life care from staff who had a caring approach to their work and were committed to providing high-quality, end-of-life care.

"Throughout our visit we saw people were treated in a caring way by staff who were committed to delivering high standards."

The inspectors also recalled seeing one resident singing in the communal area and a member of staff encouraging them.

Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for social and community services, Judith Heathcoat, said: "It is rare for any home in England to be graded as "outstanding" by the CQC so this really is a measure of just how much of a high-quality facility this is."

Tributes paid to a 'loving' father

TRIBUTES have been paid to an Oxford dad-of-two who died last Friday night after a crash with a lorry while cycling.

Emmanuel Vernon Jacob was cycling on the A44 at the Wolvercote roundabout at about 10.15pm when he was involved in a collision with a heavy goods vehicle.

• Emmanuel Jacob

A tribute from his family said: "Emmanuel, who was from Oxford, was a caring, fun loving and sociable man that was tragically taken from us too soon.

"He will be fondly remembered as the life and soul of every gathering, for his caring nature and his infectious laugh.

"His family wish to thank everyone for their kind words, support and sympathy at this difficult time."

He leaves two daughters.

Mr Jacob was taken to Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital after the crash but died from his injuries.

His funeral service will take place at the Christian Life Centre in Cowley Road on June 17 from 10am.

Police are investigating on behalf of the coroner and are appealing for anyone who witnessed the crash to come forward by calling 101.

No one has been arrested in connection with the incident.

Cricket for the Queen

THAME High Street will be transformed into a cricket pitch in honour of the Queen's 90th birthday.

From 4.30pm on Friday, June 10, traffic will be stopped from using High Street so the area can be devoted to all things cricket.

Organised by Manoj Parmar - a former professional cricket player for both India and Scotland between 1990 and 2001 - the event has been called Her Majesty's 90 Not Out Street Cricket Celebration.

Starting at 6.15pm, a live steel band will mark the beginning of the event and the town centre will open for a series of cricket matches.

The first ball will be bowled by the Thame Mayor, Linda Emery, to local MP, John Howell.

There will also be a chance for people to test their hand-eye co-ordination using a BatFast cricket simulator.

People do not need to bring any sports gear as all equipment will be provided.

By Samantha McGregor

Cricket coach Manoj, 49, who set up MP Cricket Academy, said: "When I was growing up in India, I would collect newspaper cuttings about matches played at Lord's Cricket ground, especially England v Australia when Her Majesty shakes hands with each player, and that level of passion is passed on to all the children we meet and teach in Oxfordshire.

"However, we would like to reach more non-active children through holding cricket matches as part of Her Majesty's birthday celebrations.

"These are not normal games of cricket - the town centre will be closed so that the matches can take place right in the middle of the stunning High Street."

A series of matches will be played during the evening, culminating at 8.45pm in a certificate presentation and singing of the National anthem.

People are being urged to join the fun by bringing a picnic blanket and food and making an evening of it.

Visitors should also bring a Union flag to wave as the National Anthem is sung to mark the Queen's birthday.

MP Sports Cricket Academy, based in Thame, organises junior cricket coaching and courses designed to encourage children to enjoy sport for life.

Running alongside the cricket event, Sue Boyle will host a Queen's Birthday Carnival Quiz at Thame Snooker Club.

For more information, call the Town Hall on 01844 212833 or go to mpsportscricketacademy.co.uk.

Knifeman strikes

BICESTER: Police are appealing for witnesses after a man threatened a female shop worker with a knife and stole cash from a till.

The man walked into McColls Newsagent, in Market Square, on Tuesday last week just before 4pm and took the money after forcing open the till.

Police said the man was white, approximately 6ft, aged in his 40s, and of large build. He had a brown beard, and was wearing a black jacket with his hood up, and black trousers.

Det Con Samantha Bonner, of Banbury Force CID, said the woman was not hurt, but it was an "upsetting experience".

Anyone with any information should contact the police enquiry centre on 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

Carnival appeal

THAME: Residents and businesses are being urged to make this year's carnival the best yet.

With preparations for Thame Carnival 2016 in full swing, people can get involved by offering raffle prizes, volunteering to help set up or dismantle equipment.

This year's theme is 'Best of British' and the event will include a street party to celebrate the Queen's 90th birthday. Activities will include a human table football game, climbing wall, egg throwing, music and a dog show.

Profits from the day will go to Megan's Bench Project, a fund set up in memory of 18-year-old Megan Biddle. For more details, email thamecarnival@gmail.com.

Ponies get new home

TWO ponies have settled into their new home after being rescued by a Thame family.

Julie Mott was looking for ponies for her sons Teddy, 10, and Louis, seven, and has given Robbie and Tony a new home.

Robbie's owner was unable to care properly for him and Tony arrived at World Horse Welfare's Glenda Spooner Farm Rescue and Rehoming Centre as a welfare concern in winter 2008 suffering from a severe lice infestation and badly overgrown feet.

Mrs Mott said: "The first time Teddy had a ride on Tony, we straightaway fell in love with him and Robbie too!"

"Once the necessary rehoming checks had been done, we were approved as a home for the two ponies and they came to live with us just before Christmas 2015.

"I always say it was fate and friendship which brought us to find Robbie and Tony."

Teddy has also ridden Tony to represent his school, Ashfold School, in the National Schools Equestrian Association Championships.

Mrs Mott said: "I had never appreciated that World Horse Welfare might have ponies like Robbie and Tony but I absolutely wouldn't hesitate to recommend rehoming to anyone now."

Tony Tyler, World Horse Welfare deputy chief executive, said: "Rehoming is vital to the sustainability of World Horse Welfare's work, as each horse finding a new home gives us space to take in more horses who are desperately in need of our help."

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Lawson wasn't expecting that!

AFTER its successful run in Southampton last summer, the first ever Common People Festival in Oxford was a huge triumph over the Bank Holiday Weekend.

By James Richings

Approximately 20,000 music enthusiasts, both young and old, crammed onto the South Park field to see musicians and bands such as The Cuban Brothers, Jamie Lawson, Katy B and 1980s sensation Duran Duran in a jam-packed weekend.

And for 40-year-old Jamie Lawson, whose single 'Wasn't Expecting That' peaked at number six in the chart last year, a performance at the city's inaugural festival was a huge moment.

• Around 20,000 people attended Common People

And he admitted that "he didn't know if people knew his music".

He said: "This is the first festival of the year for me and it is the first festival I have done since the album has been out.

"And I don't know if people know my stuff or not so today (Saturday), I will found out if the people know who Jamie Lawson is.

"Also, I didn't know that this was the first ever Common People Festival in Oxford, so that is really great for me."

Despite his recent fame at the age of 40, Jamie has been performing for the majority of his life.

After writing his first tune at the age of 15, the musician started to perform in pubs and bars all over the country two years later.

Then after signing to his first record label in the early 2000s, the musician released his debut album 'Last Night Stars' in 2006.

But it wasn't until 2010 when a pivotal moment in Jamie's life took place.

After going to a pub in Balham for a scheduled gig, the rising star was told that he would be performing with another unknown musician by the name of Ed Sheeran.

The two hit it off but after that one gig, Jamie and Ed lost touch.

During that time, Ed became one of the world's biggest music sensations.

And in 2012, Jamie received a surprising message stating that Ed was doing a secret show in Dublin and wanted the musician from Plymouth to support him.

Jamie has since signed to Sheeran's record label and saw his self-titled album go straight to number one in the UK.

"I didn't know if the break was going to come but I knew I was going to keep on doing it," Jamie said.

"I knew I was going to make another record and I knew I was going to get that record out to the world, but I didn't expect it to be via Ed Sheeran, as that is not the usual route."

He added: "It was a shock because I had only performed with him once.

"That gig led to the tour with him, which then led to him telling me that he was going to open up his own record label, thinking that I should be the first person.

"And the gig in Dublin was good, about 100 people in there and even though we hadn't kept in touch for four years, when we performed, it seemed like nothing ever changed.

"He was the same sweet kid who was very generous with his time but he just had more tattoos."

Fans go wild at Common People

THE sight of people just having a good time and dancing to their favourite tunes was the main theme at Common People.

For two solid days, thousands of people gathered in South Park to not only see chart-toppers like Craig David and Duran Duran show off their talents, but also for the atmosphere to see how the first Common People festival in the city would be.

Audience members from primary school children to old age pensioners gathered around the five stages - the Common Stage, the Uncommon Stage, the Big Top Stage, the Sugar Skulls Cocktail Bar and Disco Shed - and danced their weekend away.

By James Richings

And for schoolteacher David Morgan, who teaches economics and business studies at Harrow School, but studied and lived in Oxford, revealed that the two-day festival was a good way for him to "let of some steam" over the weekend.

"It is all good in the hood now, it's half-term and the fact that I'm on a hen do, which is a bit strange for a bloke, makes this festival a lot better.

"And I was very excited to see groups such as Soul II Soul and Duran Duran perform.

"To anyone who hasn't been to Oxford before or has never been to a festival like this, come down.

"Sunny times, great days, good vibes, amazing people, get involved and have a great time!"

As the day went on, many people started to gather around the main stage which saw The Cuban Brothers show why they are one of the most talked about groups in Europe.

Taking audience participation to the extreme, the four entertainers of Miguel Mantovani, Archerio, Kengo San and Young Domenico sang tunes off their latest album 'Yo Bonita', whilst break dancing and jumping into the crowd, which led to frontman Miguel spontaneously stripping.

The crowd went wild.

The penultimate act of Saturday's line-up was singer-songwriter Katy B, who has recently found new fame following the success of her latest hit 'Turn the Music Louder' with Tinie Tempah, which reached number one in October.

The 27-year-old received one of the loudest cheers of the night where she performed a number of tunes from her previous albums which included 'Lights On' and 'Crying for No Reason'.

As well as the music, motorcycling stunt show The Wall Death and the paint fight were also popular hits at the debut festival.

A history lesson with Ray

THE history of the Isle of Wight Festival will be revealed by one its co-founders for a talk at Blackwell's bookshop in Oxford on Wednesday, June 8.

Ray Foulk arrives at the Broad Street shop to explain how along with his brothers Ron and Bill, he created the festival, which saw the likes of Jimi Hendrix and Bob Dylan perform in its first few years.

And Ray revealed to the Guardian the unexpected reason why he, along with his siblings, founded the festival in the first place.

"The first festival was promoted to raise money for an Isle of Wight indoor swimming pool," Ray revealed to the Guardian.

"The island didn't have one.

"The charity concerned was scared off by adverse publicity about hippies heading to the island and we were left with the event as our own."

First launched in 1968, the debut festival saw musicians and bands such as Jefferson Airplane, Smile, Arthur Brown and Pretty Little Things all perform.

The festival soon gathered pace and in 1969, Ray and his brothers secured a massive coup as they managed to persuade Bob Dylan to headline that year's event.

By James Richings

A year later in 1970, the Foulk brothers managed to secure the services of guitar legend Jimi Hendrix to headline.

However that would ultimately be his last performance in the UK before his shock death less than a month later at the age of 27.

Ray said: "Every time I hear mention of the death of Jimi Hendrix or his appearance at our festival I'm filled with sadness rather than pride or pleasure."

"We received the news in our Isle of Wight office with great shock, 18 days after our festival."

"Also, in 1969, the Bob Dylan booking resulted from months of negotiation and supply of information, including making a film about the island.

"After that, most of the artist bookings came easy, except perhaps The Doors and Jimi Hendrix which were negotiated through London agents.

"Our reputation had been made. The great advantage we had in 1970 was that Dylan's manager, Bert Block, became our North America booking agent, so we must have done something right."

Tickets cost £3 for the talk, and it starts at 8pm.

Night of swing

LIVE MUSIC: Jazz and swing band 'Boulevard Swing' will arrive at the Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot on Saturday, June 4.

The Station Road venue will see guitarist Brian Thompson, pianist Jeff Young, bassist Steve Smith, drummer Tim Richardson, Clive Burton on the trombone, saxophonist Mike Wills and vocalist Pat Giles perform a number of well-known jazz tunes.

It starts at 7.30pm.

New take on old tale

THEATRE: Rudyard Kipling's 'The Jungle Book' will be brought to life at the Oxford Playhouse from Friday, June 3 and Saturday, June 4.

Unlike the traditional tale of the well-known 1894 book, this performance will include beat boxers, street dancers, a graffiti artist and a skateboarding crew.

Three performances will take place over the two days, and tickets will cost from £11 to £19.

The Cancer Bats

LIVE MUSIC: Canadian based punk band The Cancer Bats will be performing at the O2 Academy in Oxford tomorrow night, Friday, June 3 from 6pm.

ARGENTINE TANGO NIGHT
Buenos Aires is famed for its tango bars which are an intoxicating mix of music, dance and sultry nights. But you don't have to go to Argentina, we have it all in Didcot! Join us as Cornerstone's café bar transforms into a Buenos Aires Tango bar. There will be great music, professional dancers and you can either come along and watch or take part straight away! Don't forget we have plenty of tango workshops on offer for you to brush up those skills before the big night and our Argentinian tango tutor will be here to lead the way. Please contact the Box Office if you wish to also include the delicious food!

Fri, Jun 17 – Sat, Jun 18

FURIOUS FOLLY
Taking place in the centenary year of the battle of the Somme, Furious Folly creates an evocative, disorientating war-torn landscape from sound, light and pyrotechnics.
Drawing on the anti-war spirit of the Dadaist artists of the time, this powerful and poignant open-air performance has been created by Mark Anderson, the artist behind the internationally renowned Power Plant. Anderson and his team have made a unique show that rails against the futility and madness of the Great War, and challenges the inhumanity and senselessness of conflicts past and present.
An unmissable experience, this remarkable and moving free event forms part of 14-18 NOW, the UK-wide arts programme to mark the First World War centenary.

BLACK IS THE COLOR OF MY VOICE

Direct from sell-out performances in Shanghai, New York and at the Edinburgh Fringe, Apphia Campbell embarks on her debut UK tour. Inspired by the life of Nina Simone, Black Is the Color of My Voice follows a successful jazz singer and civil rights activist seeking redemption after the untimely death of her father. She reflects on the journey that took her from a young piano prodigy destined for a life in the service of the church, to a renowned jazz vocalist at the forefront of the Civil Rights Movement.

New MG3 model proves fun ride

MG has a long history when it comes to making motor cars and I can recall many models that made MG as a brand stand out above all others – for instance, the MG Midget, the MGA and the MGB GT V8 are just a few of the iconic models that I can remember from my youth.

When this much-loved brand was re-launched back in 2011, the response was positive and, for me, this was great news because I was happy that once again I would start seeing a new generation of MG motor cars hit our streets.

The brand is now growing again and the introduction of the facelifted MG6 in 2015 made it even stronger.

So in light of this, I thought it was about time that I gave the MG3 super-

By Anthony Yates

mini, which was introduced in 2013, a full workout.

Power and Efficiency:

The MG3 is powered by a 1.5 DOHC VTi-TECH engine that produces 106PS @6000rpm and has a top speed of 108mph.

Fuel consumption is about 51mpg, and a 0-60 time of about 10 seconds.

The engine feels very willing – and for an engine that is normally aspirated I think it does that rather well.

OK, it's never going to set any records, but why should it – the MG3 was built to meet a need for a car that was not only well equipped, but also priced without breaking the bank or jacking up insurance premiums.

On the road:

The MG3 feels fine – nothing to complain about really.

It's fun to drive and the chassis is doing a great job of keeping you pressed into the tarmac.

The steering is also well weighted, but I found that road noise can be high on some surfaces and I think a little extra soundproofing here and there would have been welcome.

Design and Interior:

The interior is not as good as some, but for a budget motor I can forgive it for its basic approach, although the seating was comfortable and the space inside is more than adequate.

The dials and switches are also set out well and the interior stands out better than some of its budget rivals such as the Dacia Sandero.

Also, let's not forget about the wide range of personalisation options you can choose from.

Technology:

The MG 3FORM Sport model is fitted with a CD player with six speakers and USB input along with a host of extras including LED daytime running lights, DAB radio, multi-function trip computer, atability control system (SCS) including ABS, EBD, EBA, CBC and engine stop-start function.

Base price (from) £9,899 as tested).

Blow for U's as Hylton rejects deal for Luton

By Christian Wilson

OXFORD United have suffered a massive blow to their preparations for life in League One after striker Danny Hylton rejected a new deal at the club.

The reigning supporters' player of the year has instead decided to leave the Kassam Stadium to drop back down a division to sign for Luton Town.

Hylton played a massive role in the U's promotion success last term, scoring 15 goals in all competitions, including the second in Oxford's 3-2 loss to Barnsley in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy final at Wembley.

But the 27-year-old, who joined former United defender Johnny Mullins in moving to Kenilworth Road on Tuesday, insisted that the prospect of moving to the Hatters was something that he just "couldn't turn down".

Speaking to Luton's official website, Hylton said: "I wish Oxford all the best, it's a fantastic club and the people at the club are unbelievable.

"I had such a good time there, and ended it on a high with promotion.

"I could have stayed but I just felt that this was right and was an opportunity that I couldn't turn down."

Hylton became a real crowd favourite with his all-action displays after joining the U's from Rotherham United before the 2014/15 campaign, and won both the supporters' and players' player of the year awards in his debut season.

And manager Michael Appleton was quick to thank the outgoing striker for his telling contribution in helping Oxford to second spot last time around.

He said: "We're sad to see Danny leave because he has been very popular around the club and especially with the fans.

"We made him a much improved offer to stay but he has a young family to think of and we respect his decision and wish him well for the future."

In total Hylton scored 27 times in 85 starts for the club, with club chairman Darryl Eales promising the Oxford faithful that work is being done behind the scenes to bring in replacements.

He added: "First and foremost we'd like to thank Danny and Johnny for everything they have done for Oxford United.

"They have both been terrific servants of the club, as well as being top blokes, and we wish them well in their new challenge.

"We have a very experienced recruitment team and I know that Michael has already spoken to a number of potential new players.

"I'm sure fans will be keen for news but I hope they understand that we need to take our time, do our homework and ensure that we improve what is already a very strong squad."

Stars reveal signings for next season

OXFORD City Stars last week announced three new players on their roster for next season in the National Ice Hockey League (NIHL) South 1.

Great Britain defenceman Ben Nethersell has signed for the Stars, while Joe Edwards and Andy Cox have returned after helping the club to fourth place last year.

Nethersell served as assistant captain of the GB under-18s squad at the World Championships in Romania, and made two appearances in the English Premier League (EPL) with Swindon Wildcats last season.

He said: "I know that Oxford are a hard-working team with hunger to win a championship after being knocked out of the play-offs last year."

Popular defenceman Cox and Oxford-born forward Edwards, who scored 13 goals last season, will also ice for the Stars, after both signing.

Edwards said: "I'm happy to be back of course, especially after last year's journey.

"It was incredible and I can't wait to get on the ice again and see what damage we can do."

Cox added: "It's extremely exciting to be at Oxford right now as the club is in the best position I've ever seen it in."

Lynn fails to gain second win

OXFORD racer Alex Lynn was unable to claim his second win of the GP2 season over the weekend as he was left frustrated in Monaco.

The DAMS driver claimed fourth- and fifth-placed finishes to consolidate his position in third place in the championship.

Lynn went into the race at the iconic Monte Carlo track flying after clinching a sprint race win in Barcelona on the opening run of the season.

But after qualifying in sixth position, the Williams F1 development driver made it very difficult for himself to move up the field and claim a second victory of 2016 on one of the most notoriously difficult tracks in the world.

And so it proved as, after starting on soft tyres, the 22-year-old finished the opening race in fourth to just miss out on the podium.

Russian driver Artem Markelov won that race to make it three different race winners from the opening three races so far this season.

And that soon became four as Nobuharu Matsushita took the chequered flag in the second race, with Lynn finishing a long way off the chasing pack in a distant fifth.

"A fourth and a fifth might sound boring, but it's vital to pick up those points," said Lynn.

"You win when you can, and when you can't you pick up the maximum possible.

"We dodged a lot of curveballs, didn't make mistakes which a lot of our rivals did, and banked 19 points."

Hedman suffers defeat again in Lakeside final

By Adam Flinn

OXFORDSHIRE darting ace Deta Hedman suffered Lakeside heartbreak once again as she was beaten in the final of the BDO World Trophy on Monday.

The Jamaican-born thrower, who plays county darts for Oxfordshire, lost 7-4 to two-time world champion Lisa Ashton in Monday's final at the iconic venue in Frimley Green, having stormed through the earlier rounds.

It is the second time that Hedman has lost on the Lakeside stage in a final this year, having suffered defeat against Trina Gulliver in the world championships in January.

Hedman had got off to a fast start in Monday's final as she broke Ashton's throw in the opening leg, landing double top for an early advantage.

Ashton then rattled off three legs in a row, two of which were on Hedman's throw, before Hedman broke again in the fifth leg to keep her in contention.

However, Ashton was again able to string three legs together as Hedman continued to struggle on her throw, moving her opponent within one leg of the title.

Hedman fought back and once again broke Ashton in the next leg, before she was finally able to hold her own throw after taking out a finish of 83 to move back within two legs.

But Ashton held her nerve and was able to take out the final leg she needed on her throw after hitting double 18 for victory.

It came after she comfortably beat Ann Louise-Peters, Gulliver and Rhian Griffiths on her way to the final, dropping just two legs along the way.

"It's always fantastic to reach a final at the most historic venue in darts," said Hedman after the match.

"Myself and Lisa always have a ding-dong battle on the oche, and I was feeling great but just couldn't find the form from my semi-final earlier in the day.

"Against Lisa I was just missing that extra spark, but a final is not too dusty.

"I would like to thank all my Oxfordshire team-mates for their good wishes and had the support of several at the venue which was pleasing, as well as many supporters of the county.

"I will be back on that stage at the world championships and will do my utmost to walk off the stage with the title."

Pepperell fails to make cut at Wentworth

EDDIE Pepperell was unable to carry on his momentum as he failed to make the cut at the BMW PGA Championship last week.

The Abingdon golfer went into the European Tour tournament in superb form after putting in his best performance of the season at the Irish Open days earlier.

Rounds of 71, 70, 76 and 66 had helped Pepperell claim a tie for eighth place at the K Club, as he finished just seven shots behind eventual winner Rory McIlroy.

But the 25-year-old struggled to come close to replicating his fine final day showing, despite matching his opening round score at Wentworth – a course that he claimed a sixth-placed finish at in 2013.

Birdies at the fourth, seventh and 16th holes on day one left Pepperell in a reasonable position on day one as he carded a one-under par score of 71.

But he undid all of his hard work with a dreadful start to Friday's play, which saw him follow up a bogey at the first with a double bogey at the very next hole, before then bogeying the ninth.

And despite claiming birdies at 11, 12 and 18, his back nine showing was also soured by a second double bogey at the 13th hole and another bogey at the 17th.

That +5 score of 77 was not enough to allow Pepperell to progress to the third day, as he ended the tournament four over par to finish with a tie for 94th spot.

Trio handed first deals

THREE youngsters from Oxford United's youth team have signed their first professional contracts.

Goalkeeper Jack Stevens and defender Miles Welch-Hayes both signed one-year contracts with the U's on Tuesday after making the step up.

Versatile Welch-Hayes can play right back, left back or centre half and has previously had loan spells at Daventry and Banbury United, while Stevens started his career at Chelsea before then joining United as a scholar.

Oxford manager Michael Appleton said: "It's good news.

"They have both worked very hard and deserve their chance."

The duo follow 18-year-old striker George Jeacock in joining the first team squad, after he also signed his first pro deal last Thursday.

Bicester-born forward Jeacock has been with the club since the under eights, and was top scorer for the under-18 side last season.

He said: "It's a dream come true and something I have worked hard for."

Appleton added: "He is very raw and there is plenty for him to work on but he has a good attitude and an eye for goal.

"He has impressed us when he has trained with the first team and played in under-21 games so he is another promising young player who we look forward to working with."

Oxford make double signing

OXFORD City have this week announced two more signings as they prepare for next season.

Both midfielder Shaun McAuley and defender Freddie Grant have joined the National League South club.

McAuley joins City from Basingstoke Town after the club decided to go full-time following their relegation to the Southern League Premier.

• (centre) Shaun McAuley

The 29-year-old played a key role in Basingstoke's run to the play-offs on two separate occasions after moving to the Camrose from Eastleigh in 2011.

Grant has moved to Marsh Lane after being released by League One Oxford United last week, with the 19-year-old able to play as full back on either side of the defence.

Oxford also confirmed their first three pre-season friendlies of the summer last week.

Justin Merritt's side will start their pre-season schedule with a trip to Didcot Town on Tuesday, July 12. Oxford will then travel to face Brackley Town in Churchill Way on Saturday, July 30, before then facing Dunstable Town away from home on Tuesday, August 2, ahead of the season opener four days later.

Sport Bites

Blues in action

RUGBY: Oxford Rugby League will hope to claim their first win of the season when they return to action this Sunday.

The Blues will host Hemel Stags at Tilsley Park after taking a week off following their 54-14 hammering by Doncaster.

That defeat was Oxford's ninth in a row in a nightmare start to the campaign that has seen them firmly rooted to the bottom of the Kingston Press League 1 table.

O'Dowda's cap

The 21-year-old was given a 15-minute run-out by manager Martin O'Neill in the 2-1 defeat to Belarus in Cork as reward for his performance for the U's last season.

O'Dowda was not named in the Ireland boss's final 23-man squad for Euro 2016 in France after the game, although he expected to play a role in his country's upcoming World Cup qualifying campaign.

New manager

FOOTBALL: North Leigh FC have announced their new manager after the departure of long-serving boss Mark Gee.

Gee stepped down after 18 years in the top spot last month and is to be replaced by former Cinderford Town manager John Brough.

Cinderford won the Southern League Division One South and West last season, but Brough stepped down after the club declined promotion.

Smith looks to improve after a tough start

OXFORD'S Bradley Smith will be hoping to get back on form in Barcelona this weekend after just putting an end to a bad start to the season.

The Monster Yamaha Tech3 team rider recorded his first retirement in almost two years in France last month, having picked up only 20 points in the first five rounds.

But Smith showed a return to form in Italy last weekend, coming home in seventh place at Mugello.

Ahead of round seven in Catalunya on Sunday, Smith said: "As always, I am confident of hitting the ground running in Barcelona and I am certain that I can carry on the good positive momentum from the last GP."

Smith currently sits in 12th place in the world standings on 29 points, with Espargaro ahead in seventh on 48 points.

Both Magnussen and Palmer fail to finish Monaco Grand Prix

A race to forget as Renaults crash out

By Adam Flinn

RENAULT had a Monaco Grand Prix to forget on Sunday as neither Kevin Magnussen nor Jolyon Palmer made it to the end of the race.

For the first time this season, neither of the Enstone-based team's cars made it to the finish on a rainy day in the glamorous principality.

Rain hit the circuit prior to the start of the race, meaning the opening laps were run behind the safety car.

When the race got going proper, Palmer was almost instantly caught out, dropping his Renault on the start/finish straight and slamming into the barriers.

Luckily the Englishman was unhurt, but heavy damage to his car meant that his race was over.

"The traction was appalling after the safety car and I got caught out," said Palmer.

"I had wheelspin in fifth gear on the white line that crosses the track and there was nothing I could do – I was just a passenger and went straight away into the wall.

"Monaco hasn't been good to me this year so we need to move on to the next race and look for a better weekend."

Magnussen made a better start to the race and perfectly timed a switch to the intermediate tyres as the track began to dry out.

However his race was ruined when a recovering Daniil Kvyat, who was a lap down on Magnussen, made an over ambitious move into the Rascasse and slammed into the side of the Renault.

The time lost in the incident, as well as the extent of the damage caused, led Renault to retire the car shortly afterwards.

Magnussen said: "We were in a good position as a lot of people were still to pit and we gained a lot of places.

"Unfortunately, Kvyat just lost his mind and crashed into me and that was effectively the end of my race.

"We did continue and made an early change to slicks as we had nothing to lose, but ultimately I hit the wall and damaged the front wing.

"We were several laps down at that point and the car had been in the wars, so it was safer to retire."
